Funston Ordered To Recruit 6 Regiments For Regular Army

General Bell Denies Rumors of Fighting South of Namiquipa--Anti-American Demonstrations Encouraged

SIX VESSELS SENT TO MEXICAN WATERS

San Antonio, June 21.—(By United Press)— Major General Funston was ordered by the war department today to recruit at once six new regiments for the regular army. Four of infantry and two of cavalry. Detailed instruction were mailed him from Washington. Recruiting will start at once.

General Funston today denied the report circulated that he had made a second request for militia to be sent to the border He said the only request he has made was the one made public yesterday.

San Antonio, June 21.—(By United Press)—General Perhsing's scouting parties thrown out along the line of communication of the American army in Mexico have found no Mexican detachments moving at any point within touch of their lines, Funston reported. Mexicans at Ojinaja "are running around in circles bragging about what they intend to do," said Funston. General Parker at Brownsville reported to Funston he had no confirmation of the rumored massacre of Americans at the Cerrebalo mines in interior Mexico.

Orders Expected Today.

Harrisburg, June 21.—(By United Press)—Orders are expected from the war department today for the mustering of the national guard at camp Brumbaught, Mount Gretna, tomorrow. Division headquarters will be established there by Major-General Clemens before the regular officers arrive.

The work of mustering will be in charge of James Kemper, who is on duty at the adjutant general's department offices. He will be assisted by the following officers who will be army inspection instructors. Major C. E. Kemper, first lieutenant, Walter Kruger; Captain, F. S. Leisheiring, Wilkes-Barre Major Kemper will be the medical instructor. One cavalry officer is yet to be assigned at Mt. Gretna. Kemper's headquarters will be close to the railroad and not near the division camps.

El Paso, June 21.—General George Bell, commanding Ft Bliss today denied rumors of fighting between Carranza and United States troops south of Namiquipa. Mexican sniping is believed to have caused early reports of a clash The American forces and the Carranzistas face each other south of Namiquapa and local authorities still believe a battle imminent.

General Trevino commander of the north is preparing to leave Chihuhua City with his staff presumably to take the field, refugees declared. Reports received by state department agents indicate that the de facto government is making every preparation for hostilities.

Recent arrivals reported anti-American demonstrations in several Mexican states encouraged by officers of the de facto government. General Pershing is reported today to be at Coloma Dublan where his largest forces are entrenched. Preparations have been made to rusch reinforcements to Namiquipa if the American troops are attacked.

Washington, June 21—The cruisers Vicksburg and Colorado and four destroyers will leave San Diego today for the Mexican west coast, Admiral Winslow wired the navy department today. The tender Dixie will arrive at Vera Cruz on Sunday. The transport Hancock sailed today from New Orleans with about 900 marines for the Mexican port.

Whatever help they give the land forces no capital ships will be sent, the United Press learned today. Dreadnaughts, battle ships and heavy cruisers would not be needed for any Mex service, it was stated. "Nor would be wise at this time to break up the Atlantic fleet." Should a blockade be determined upon the work will be done by light cruisers, transports and gun boats. Should need arise the navy could easily augment its small war ship quota by seizing the four Mexican gun boats lying in port without fuel or ammunition.

President Wilson has decided the full first year program recommended by the general board of the navy should be adopted by congress. This program includes construction during the first year of three battle cruisers, four dreadnaughts and four scout cruisers.

Between 300 and 400 American refugees have left Sonora in the past three days according to state department advices today. A special train presumably taking 200 or 300 more out of the capital was due to leave today.

New York, June 21.—The Carranza government has withdrawn practically all the $4,000,000 which it has had on deposit here for financing its ordinary business, it became known today.

Harrisburg, June 21.—Orders were issued today to all N.G. P. commanders to recruit compies to full war strength.

The time of issuance of his order was still in doubt. Officials said they would wait until sufficient mobilization has been accomplished before taking the step. Secretary Baker said messages received within the last 24 hours did not change the matter any.

Mexico City, June 21.—The special train ordered by special agent Rodgers to take Americans out of Mexico City will not leave for Vera Cruz today as was expected. Rodgers was notified at an early hour by government officials that preparations for the train's departure had not been completed. Another demonstration of working men took place last night. Carranza addressed this assemblage repeating his previous statement that Mexico was not seeking war with the United States.

Chicago, June 21.—(By United Press)—Thousands of horses originally intended for sale to European armies were brought out for inspection for United States army officers at local markets today. The first Illinois cavalry took options on nearly 1,000 of them. Horse dealers here determined today to "give the United States first chance" for horses regardless of European contracts.

London, June 21.—Six German divisions—12,000 men—have been hurried east to check the Russian offensive bearing down upon Lemberg, Geneva dispatches reported today.

6000 Horses to be Bought

Six thousand horses and mules are to be purchased at once by the war department for Mexican service through competitive bids. The horses required total 40,000 and the mules 20,000. They expected no difficulty in getting the first allotment of horses. The middle west will furnish a large part of them.

Only 53 machine guns are in the hands of military organizations in the country. Every military regiment will have to have a machine gun company, an army officer stated. These will be organized if the regiments go to the border. Machine guns will be furnished by the government.

Mr and Mrs J. F. Woods and son, Charles, of Reed street, left on the morning train for Akron, O., where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. Geo. Wind. They expect to visit Cleveland before their return home.

President Wilson today interpreted the suffrage plank in the Democratic platform as being an approval of the suffrage movement but as recommending that it have its inception in the individual states.

FARM AGENT WILL START WORK HERE MIDDLE OF JULY

Office of County Farm Bureau Will Be Located In The Keystone Building

Big Meeting of Bureau Will be Held July 13 in the Court House—Bureau of Great Benefit to Farmers.

The Clearfield County Farm bureau starts officially July first, simultaneously with all other new farm bureaus in Pennsylvania, when the recently appointed extension representatives report for duty at State College.

After a few days preliminary work at the college, the men will report for duty in their respective counties.

A. T. Kearney, extension representative for Clearfield county will arrive in Clearfield on July 13th, accompanied by F. P. Weaver of the school of agriculture of State college. Mr. Weaver is well known here, having made a number of splendid addresses on farm bureau work.

A meeting of the officers, board of managers and those connected with the organization of the bureau will be held in Clearfield on July 13th at two o'clock, P. M., in the Court House. Almost from that hour the Clearfield County Farm bureau will be an actual working organization for the improvement and upbuilding of the agricultural interests of the county. A close study of our agricultural problems will be made and when preliminary details are completed every earnest farmer who wants the assistance of the bureau will receive it. It is a county institution and the service will be free. The most practical scientific methods will be employed.

The office of the bureau will be in the Keystone building on Second street, occupying a part of the suite of offices leased by the county commissioners for the superintendent of schools, C. A. Weisgerber. This is an excellent arrangement because boy's corn clubs will be organized throughout the county in connection with the schools, affording the very best opportunity for cooperation between these schools and the branch of agricultural development.

The officers and board of managers who will meet in Clearfield on Thursday, July 13th to inaugurate the work of the Farm bureau are:

Peter Gearhart, president. Chas. Goodlander, H D. Watts, and F. B. Lee, vice- presidents; L. E. Weber, treasurer, H. E. Bodine, secretary, C. A. Weisgerber, superintendent of the schools.

Board of managers, M. J McCreight, H.E. Owens, C. W. Langsford, George W Wachob, Ed. Billotte, T. L. Way and Peter Gearhart.

Mr. Kearney will be warmly welcomed by the farmers and business men of this section. He comes highly recommended and is well qualified to render the county valuable service.

ENGINE SMASHES INTO FREIGHT IN N. Y. C. YARDS

Ditches Four Cars and Engine—No One Was Injured

Last night about twelve o'clock a N. Y. C. engine smashed into a long freight train at the lower end of the yards in East End piling up four or five cars and the engine. The wreck occurred where the tracks cross. The engine was driven by Earnest Orr who evidently was coming into the yards at high speed and did not notice the other train until too late to stop. No one was hurt although there were several narrow escapes. The wreck was cleaned up last night in a few hours.

CLEARFIELD BOYS DEFEAT CRACK CURWENSVILLE TEAM

12 to 6 Victory Yesterday at Curwensville Makes Local Youngsters Happy

Clearfield youngsters administered a decided defeat to the juvenile team of Curwensville, when they registered a 12 to 6 victory on the Curwensville home grounds. Tom McGoey, who pitched for the Clearfields, featured the game with fine pitching and heavy hitting.

When one considers the very general and unmistakable interest that is being shown in the Progress automobile contest they may wonder—but only for an instant, for when the unusually generous offer of this paper with its unprecedented $1,000 prize list is considered, there is good and sufficient reason for the wide spread interest and animation produced by this interesting event. After all it is little wonder that this high class offer made a decided hit from the very first announcement and promptly received the hearty endorsement and generous support of an intelligent and discriminating public.

Seldom, if ever, during the ordinary life-time has one the chance of becoming the owner of a brand new five passenger Overland automobile and nearly a half score of other valuable and useful articles, without the investment of a single cent. Never before in local history have the people of Clearfield county been the recipients of a prize offer of such magnitude and importance, which, with fair and equitable conditions, open only on extraordinary occasions, to the popular people of a community receive the distinguished honors that are in store for the winners of these handsome awards.

There is nothing cheap about the great Progress campaign and it is not of the "fake" variety. The awards have already been purchased and may be seen and inspected by the public at the business houses of these reliable local concerns. The Overland touring car that it to be awarded as the grand prize has just been received by the Lee garage and will have its first drive under the guiding hand of its winner. The car is of the latest design, and is one of the most perfect products of the Willys Overland Co. This touring car is elegantly finished, and fully equipped with all the accessories of the higher priced cars. It will go to the candidate securing the highest vote in the contest, and is sure to prove of much pleasure and pride to its owner. The Baumgardner piano, three victrolas, and the [illegible], and the watches that will be awarded to the candidates in the order of their vote standing, while of less value than the first grand prize, are of equally high character, and any of these articles will certainly well repay, and surely please, the ladies or gentlemen who win them.

Aside from all matters of pride and popularity that are connected with the competition in this popular event, it offers a real business proposition of unusual magnitude to those who are willing to devote a few weeks of pleasant effort to the subscription getting that will determine the winners. In no ordinary under-

Germany is Growing Indifferent To American Opinion, Is Report

Teutons Will Renew Submarine Activities to Bring Conflict to Early Close.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, June 21.—Germany is growing suddenly indifferent to American opinion and may begin anew the submarine warfare against allied shipping. Advocates of a more effective use of the new undersea boats have reopened their campaign and today were pointing out unfriendly representations by President Wilson's talk before the league to enforce peace and figures showing 60 per cent of it is beaten then Germany should Americans against Germany in an effort to bring about renewal of the policy. Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg seems to have the upper hand.

Germany is convinced that the war will not end this summer but believes the allies are defeated. Leading newspapers pointed out the Skagerrac navy battle, the Russian drive and the successful counter drives of Teutons and successes of the Austrian offensive against Italy to show the growing weakness of the allies.

disregard public sentiment in America and use the submarines with renewed vigor to bring the conflict to an end according to the German view.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 21, 1916.

The farmers will no doubt welcome today's shower. Yesterday's sunshine must have been too much for the growing crops.

It is beginning to look as if the local young men who have howled loudest for an opportunity to bleed for their country, are going to have a chance to spill a drop or two down in Mexico.

We started out to "catch" Villa with a thousand men. A hundred and fifty thousand militia were added. Now five-hundred thousand volunteers are talked of. That ought to be enought to get him.

MUDDLING INTO MEXICO.

It was not difficult to point out months ago that the Washington Administration was muddling into Mexico, without the remotest conception of how to muddle out, or perhaps even to muddle through. That absurd collection of contradictory clap-trap, the Democratic platform, states at least one truth in saying that, in effect, the present action "is revolting to the American people." It is, for it involves not merely vigorous intervention but indefinite occupation.

There is no use in crying over spilt milk, but it is at least possible to see in November that the custody of our milk shall be left to those who can handle milk without spilling it. Mr. Hughes, in his message of acceptance, put his finger upon Mexico, the weakest spot in the incomprehensible foreign policy of Mr. Wilson's administration. That policy has exhibited one object lesson after another of "how not to do it."

It is useless to go back and point out that the Administration's offensive holier-than-thou policy in dealing with Huerta served to establish bringandage as the national occupation of Mexico, and defeated the efforts of what was at least a de facto government to suppress it. We had no concern with the Mexican method of choosing presidents. Porfirio Diaz gave the Mexicans the government they needed. He chose himself and re-elected himself, as did Huerta. Our Administration twaddled as if an election in Mexico—and it is needless to say that there has never been one there in our sense of the word—could be handled on the lines of a New England town meeting.

Then followed the grievous folly of the occupation of Vera Cruz and the shameful abandonment of our citizens at Tampico. By that time Mr. Wilson's "watchful waiting" had removed every restraint upon anarchy. Carranza, the merest figurehead, was bolstered up by the bloodthirsty bandit Villa. There was no question of nationalism or patriotism among these cutthroats. They had lost the discipline Diaz taught them and were out simply and solely for loot. What difference did the border make, especially with the contempt which Washington had impressed upon the Mexican mind?

With the calling out of the state militia, at [illegible] an unconstitutional act, the trouble has barely begun. We shall be lucky if it is not necessary to send three times the number of men now provided. We shall find that to train them requires not the twelve hours "between sunset and sunrise" dear to the Democratic heart, but at least twelve months, and more than that for the officers. What a legacy for the incoming Republican Administration!—Wall Street Journal.

UNCLE SAM'S ADVICE TO MUDDY ABOUT COMPLEXION

Washington, June 21.—(By United Press)—Do you know asks the Public Health service in a bulletin today, that:

Fly worry, not work, that shortens life?

A cold bath every morning is the best complexion remedy?

Poor health is expensive?

The U. S. Public Health Service has reduced malaria 60 per cent in some localities by methods your town can pursue?

The death rate from typhoid fever in the United States has been cut in half since 1900?

Pneumonia kills more than 120,000 Americans each year?

A flyless town has few funerals?

The well that drains the cesspool is the cup of death?

SEEKS NEW WEIGHT LIFTING RECORD.

Boston, June 21.—John Y. Smith, the strong man who once ranked with the strongest in the world, will attempt a new world's record in weight lifting at the Boston Y. M. C. A. gymnasium tomorrow. He intends trying to lift a 200-pound dumb bell from the floor to his shoulder with two hands and then push it up slowly with his right arm alone to a full arm's length over his head.

Smith, who is over fifty years of age, broke all amateur records more than fifteen years ago and also smashed Eugene Sandow's records at weight lifting.

John Mitchell, of Philadelphia, was called here to attend the funeral of his uncle, Mr. Oscar Mitchell.

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

The Khanikan region, where the Russians are reported to have been checked in their advance upon Bagdad, is the subject of the following war geography bulletin issued by the National Gographic society from its headquarters in Washington:

"It is a thirty-two hours journey, along a much traveled caravan route, from Khanikin to Bagdad. The latter city lies eighty-five miles southwest of the Turkish border town which is situated on both sides of the Hulvar river, a tributary of the Diala, whose waters empty into the Tigris.

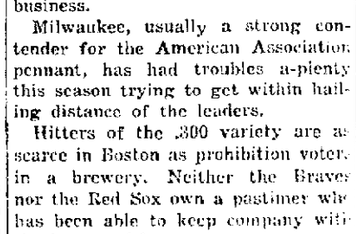
"Nestling near the foothills of the Zagros mountains, with the fertile but uncultivated Mesopotamian plain stretching to the South, Khanikin is a commercial gateway between Persia and Asiatic Turkey. Through it pass the caravans which bear to Bagdad the produce destined for transhipment to the port of Basra on the Persian Gulf. To the East lies Kermanshah, famous for its carpets and its horses, and situated almost equi-distant from Tabriz, Teheran, Isfahan and Bagdad.

"Not only does the traveler journeying from Bagdad to Khanikin meet trade caravans but frequently he encounters curious funeral processions of Shiite pilgrims making their solemn way from various points in Kurdistan to Kerbela, below Bagdad. The faithful believe that there is special virtue in being buried near the shrine of Husein, who fell at Kerbela in 680 A. D., while battling with the enemies of his father, Ali, son-in-law of the prophet and fourth caliph.

"Khanikin is charmingly situated in the midst of gardens whose fruits and palms are famous. Six hours journey from here, on the road to Kermanshalt, is Kasr-Shirin, once the headquarters of a notorious robber chief and interesting on account of its connection with the romantic legends concerning Ferhad and Shirin. Here are to be found the remains of a rock-hewn aqueduct which in ancient days conveyed water for a distance of fifteen miles in order that the gardens of Shirin might be made worthy of the beauty of their far-famed mistress. The story of Ferhad and Shirin is one of the favorite romances of the East. Ferhad was the greatest sculptor of his day, and a great architect. While making bas-reliefs of his sovereign, Chosroes II, and of the latter's bride, the Shirin, (also called Sira) the sculptor fell madly in love with his beautiful model. Chosroes, so goes the legend, promised to bestow Shirin upon his gifted subject provided the latter would cut through the rock of Behistun and divert a stream to the Kermanshah plain. Ferhad undertook the task but when the work was almost completed an emissary came from the false king bearing a tragic story of Shirin's death. The sculptor in despair leaped from the rocks and was dashed to death upon the site of his engineering triumph.

"In this neighborhood is Sar-i-Puli-zohab, where the Ali Ilahis believe David lived and where a rock-hewn tomb is a place of pilgrimage. This sect, supposed to believe in the successive reincarnation of the God-head through 1,001 existences, had a remarkable beginning, for it is recorded that Ali, who is held to be their god, repudiated the worship of his would-be followers and when Abdulla ibn Saba, an Arab, proclaimed him to be God the disciple and those who joined in protestations of reverence were ordered cast into a pit where fire was thrown upon them. While the burning Brands descended upon the zealots they cried out in their agony, 'Now is the certainty of all certainty that thou are god, for the prophet has said "None by God shall punish with fire".'

"Within another month the soldiers of the Czar will cease to be afflicted with one of the greatest insect pests of this region—the fleas which breed by the millions in the dust and said of the Kurdish plains. They disappear in July and do not return to harry their human victims until spring."



If the International league teams don't stop Providence pretty soon the Grays will have the pennant nailed by July 4.

After they had walloped the Indians at Cleveland, the Senators were backed up into a corner and given an awful beating by the Tigers and White Sox.

It is said the Red Sox plan to shift Pitcher Ruth to the outfield. The Sox don't miss Speaker. They only miss his fielding and his hitting.

[illegible] of the Giants is not hitting strong enough to get his name among the leading batsmen; but once on the paths he doesn't care how many bases he steals.

By giving to the Reds the finest kind of base ball, Hal Chase has crossed the critics who predicted he would not fit with the Herzog regime.

American leage batting averages would make it appear that Collins and Collins, the well known Chicago firm of hitsmiths, has retired from business.

Milwaukee, usually a strong contender for the American Association pennant, has had troubles a-plenty this season trying to get within hailing distance of the leaders.

Hitters of the .300 variety are as scarce in Boston as prohibition voters in a brewery. Neither the Braves nor the Red Sox own a pastimer who has been able to keep company with the heavy stickers.

During the fifteen years Eddie Plank has been flinging big league ball he has pitched for world's champions, just plain champions and near champions. But all this happened in Philadelphia, before Eddie landed in St. Louis.

Messrs. Cobb and Speaker will have to keep tabs on Gen. Joseph Jackson. The White Sox gardener has started straightening out the benders as furnished by our very best heavers.

In stating that this team is as good as it was last year Manager Pat Moran of the Phillies has anything on Connie Mack. The Athletics also are as good as they were last year.

The Pirates have Honus Wagner, the king of pastimers; Max Carey, the king of base stealers, and Al Mamaux, crown prince among the pitchers. But it's a tough year on royalty.

Delegate John McGraw of New York has nominated the Giants to head the National league ticket and the Braves for second place. Leaving his specs at home perhaps caused John's failure to discern Bobby Robinson's "rotunda" figure across the bridge.

Danny Hoffman, formerly of the St. Louis Browns, has quit the Bridgeport Eastern league team and retired from the game. Playing with the Browns was a happy existence compared to pastiming with a tail-end team in a ten-club circuit, so Dan handed himself his release.

After scouting a year over the National league circuit for his lost batting eye, Chief Meyers finally has found it. Seems that the Indian backstop had mislaid his lamp during a visit to Brooklyn and didn't recover it until he was transferred by the Giants to the Superbas.

Display your ad. Make it catchy.

If you buy a few inches in a newspaper don't try to make them carry a couple of hundred words. Newspaper readers will not wear strong glasses to read small type.

When you decide to advertise a certain article pick out its best points. Then briefly tell what they are. Emphasize in big type.

Then you'll get results.

You've hit the right tobacco

when you fire-up some Prince Albert in your old jimmy pipe or in a makin's cigarette. And you know it! Can't get in wrong with P. A. for it is made right; made to spread-smoke-sunshine among men who have suffered with scorched tongues and parched throats! The patented process fixes that—and cuts out bite and parch. All day long you'll sing how glad you are you're pals with

You take this testimony straight from the shoulder, men. You can smoke a barrel of P. A. without a kick! It hands out all the tobacco happiness any man ever dreamed about, it's so smooth and friendly. It's a mighty cheerful thing to be on talking-terms with your pipe and your tongue at the same time—but that's what's coming to you sure as you pin your faith to Prince Albert!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Everywhere tobacco is sold you'll find Prince Albert smoking your cheerful self. Buy it in tidy red bags, 5c; handsome pound and half-pound humidors—and—in that classy pound crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco right!

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphura compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease

MEXICO'S DAY TO CELEBRATE.

City of Mexico, June 21.—The customary holiday was observed today in honor of the forty-ninth anniversary of the taking of the City of Mexico by the forces of Gen. Porfirio Diaz, June 21, 1867. The city had been held by Count von Khevenhuller, in command of Hungarian veterans. Gen. Diaz had maintained a seige for about two months. The fall of the City of Mexico to the Liberal troops marked the last blow to the Imperialists and practically ended the long war of the Napoleonic invasion. Today the anniversary of the event was marked by the firing of salutes at the artillery barracks and the display of the national flag over all the public buildings.

Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, a splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside-bathing before breakfast

MIDDLEBURY RECALLS ITS POET.

Middlebury, Vt., June 21.—Several attractive features added to the regular program of exercises served to make today's commencement at Middlebury College one of the most notable occasions of its kind in the history of the institution. One of the features was the formal opening of two new buildings, Hepburn dormitory and Commons, and Mead Memorial Chapel. Tonight the program concludes with the commencement dinner and special exercises in celebration of the centennial of the birth of John Godfrey Saxe, the noted humorous poet, who graduated from Middlebury in 1839. John Godfrey Saxe, grandson of the poet, and Howard Elliott, president of the New Haven railroad, are scheduled as the chief sp

WOODLAND

On Saturday evening Dr. J. S. Fulton, conference superintendent opened the Homecoming Day exercises at the old Bradford U. B. church in a very fitting manner, after which Rev. W. S. Wilson, of Wilkinsburg, Pa., gave an address which was very timely and much appreciated by the large congregation.

On Sunday morning, Rev. A. Davidson, of Bethel, Pa., preached the word to a full house. It was a delight to listen to this man of God. The noon hour was spent in renewing acquaintances and visiting the graves of the departed. By this time the congregation had grown altogether out of proportion in keeping with the church accommodation. In the afternoon, Rev. B. J. Hummel, of Clearfield conducted a platform service. The speakers were Rev. J. S. Fulton, E. B. Learish and M. M. Houser. In the evening Dr. J. S. Fulton delivered a masterly discourse to a crowded house in the Woodland U. B. church. Revs Wilson, Houser and Learish were born and raised in the Bradford community and from here have gone out into the active work of the ministry.

The Woodland U. B. Sunday school will hold their Children's Day service Sunday evening, June 25th, at 7:30. Let this intimation be your invitation. An excellent program is being arranged.

John Adam Thompson, of near the Dale M. E. church died June 17th, 1916. He was 51 years and 26 days old. The funeral was held at his late home Monday at 2 p. m. and was largely attended. Rev. I. W. Groh, of Woodland officiated.

COMMENCEMENT AT YALE.

New Haven, June 21.—Distinguished visitors from many lands participated today in the annual commencement exercises at Yale University. The exercises were held in Woolsey Hall and were preceded by the customary procession of officers, graduates, candidates for degrees and invited guests. Following the presentation of diplomas the assembly of alumni was held in the Hewitt Quadrangle. In the late afternoon the proceedings were brought to a close with the president's reception in Memorial Hall.

AMERICA'S EXPERT BAGGAGE SMASHERS CONVENE TODAY

Boston, Mass., June 21.—(By United Press)—America's expert baggage smashers convened here today to talk about your trunk.

First glance at the gathering proved that the baggage smasher at home is not the baggage smasher on holiday.

The baggage smasher at home is very tough.

In his native environment, trundling a hand trunk through canyons of brass bound luggage, he affects a uniform cap over one ear and a pencil over the other.

He carries one shoulder high and talks in a rough voice out of one corner of his mouth.

At home, in short, the baggage smasher is a man all twisted up; but here, today, he is slick and spick; and just looking at him you wouldn't suspect that he would smash the dickens out of anything from a handsatchel to an armored battleship, if it came in as luggage.

No smasher could be found who would explain how it is that baggagemen can find an individual trunk so quickly in the stack and stacks of them that daily roll in and out of the great railroad stations of the country.

But they do it; and they must have credit for that.

DEGREE FOR GENERAL SCOTT.

Scott, chief of staff of the United States Army, was honored with the degree of doctor of military science at today's annual commencement of the Pennsylvania Military College. HALIFAX OBSERVES NATAL DAY.

Halifax, N. S., June 21.—The 167th anniversary of the founding of the city of Halifax was observed today as a public holiday. Military sports and athletic competitions featured the celebration. Exercises under the auspices of the Nova Scotia Historical Society also were included in the program.

TODAY IS LONGEST DAY OF YEAR.

Today is the longest day of the year. The course of the sun is directly over the Tropic of Cancer. The time between the rising and setting of the sun on this date gives more than fifteen hours of daylight. On December 21 the sun is above the Tropic of Capricorn, thus making it the shortest day of the year. The March and September equinoxes occur when the sun passes over the equator.

Progress Contestants Secure Many Votes Spite of Bad Weather

taking with such easy and pleasant effort could one hope to make his or her time productive of such substantial returns.

Still Time for the Energetic

"Is it too late for me to enter the Progress contest?' Such was the question made to the contest manager by an ambitious candidate who called at the Progress office yesterday.

No indeed, it is not too late to enter the contest, and it is not yet too late for any ambitious and business-like individuals to secure a sufficient number of votes to win that glittering, new touring car or any of the other prizes listed. In fact it will not be "late" until after the present week has passed, for many of the best candidates are now just getting their campaigns nicely organized, and their subscription selling efforts well under way. It is to be expected that several ambitious candidates will make their "debut" during the present week, and some of these will be very must heard from during the remainder of the contest There still remain three more weeks of the first voting period of the contest and all candidates will do well to keep their eyes on July 8th, the time at which the first period of the contest closes and the secondary or lesser, voting period goes into effect Much can be accomplished by all candidates between this and the above date, and those who aspire for the big prizes will, during this time, let their efforts measure up to the character of the prize they aspire to win. Will you be a winner?

ADAM AND EVE.

What's a woman? Ask a man,
What d'you fancy he will say?
"Airs and graces, frills and laces,
Never knows what she want each day!"
Why, then, gossip, tell me true,
Why you woo her—as you do

Ask a woman "What's a man?'
What d'you fancy she will say?
'Swagg'ring, swearing, overbearing,
Always wanting to have his way'"
Say, then, gossip, if you can,
Why you wed him'—horrid man!

Gentle sir and sweetest madam,
Would you know the reason true
Why today you scorn each other
And tomorrow bill and coo?
Ask your parents, Eve and Adam,
They can tell—and so can you!

—Exchange.

COLONIAL LAWMAKERS TO CONFER.

Ottawa, Ont., June 21.—A large and distinguished party of parliamentary members of Australia, New Zealand and Canada sails today for England to attend an important conference of the Empire Parliamentary Association to be held in London at an early date. The exact purpose of the conference has not been made public, but it is the general supposition that the representatives of the three great units of the British overseas dominions are to confer with official representatives of other portions of the empire on plans for the great commercial campaign that it is proposed towage against the Teutonic nations after the close of the present war. The Canadian delegation to the conference is to be headed by Sir George Foster and will include a dozen or more representatives of the two houses of parliament.

Funston Ordered To Recruit 6 Regiments For Regular Army

General Bell Denies Rumors of Fighting South of Namiquipa--Anti-American Demonstrations Encouraged

SIX VESSELS SENT TO MEXICAN WATERS

San Antonio, June 21.—(By United Press)— Major General Funston was ordered by the war department today to recruit at once six new regiments for the regular army. Four of infantry and two of cavalry. Detailed instruction were mailed him from Washington. Recruiting will start at once.

General Funston today denied the report circulated that he had made a second request for militia to be sent to the border He said the only request he has made was the one made public yesterday.

San Antonio, June 21.—(By United Press)—General Perhsing's scouting parties thrown out along the line of communication of the American army in Mexico have found no Mexican detachments moving at any point within touch of their lines, Funston reported. Mexicans at Ojinaja "are running around in circles bragging about what they intend to do," said Funston. General Parker at Brownsville reported to Funston he had no confirmation of the rumored massacre of Americans at the Cerrebalo mines in interior Mexico.

Orders Expected Today.

Harrisburg, June 21.—(By United Press)—Orders are expected from the war department today for the mustering of the national guard at camp Brumbaught, Mount Gretna, tomorrow. Division headquarters will be established there by Major-General Clemens before the regular officers arrive.

The work of mustering will be in charge of James Kemper, who is on duty at the adjutant general's department offices. He will be assisted by the following officers who will be army inspection instructors. Major C. E. Kemper, first lieutenant, Walter Kruger; Captain, F. S. Leisheiring, Wilkes-Barre Major Kemper will be the medical instructor. One cavalry officer is yet to be assigned at Mt. Gretna. Kemper's headquarters will be close to the railroad and not near the division camps.

El Paso, June 21.—General George Bell, commanding Ft Bliss today denied rumors of fighting between Carranza and United States troops south of Namiquipa. Mexican sniping is believed to have caused early reports of a clash The American forces and the Carranzistas face each other south of Namiquapa and local authorities still believe a battle imminent.

General Trevino commander of the north is preparing to leave Chihuhua City with his staff presumably to take the field, refugees declared. Reports received by state department agents indicate that the de facto government is making every preparation for hostilities.

Recent arrivals reported anti-American demonstrations in several Mexican states encouraged by officers of the de facto government. General Pershing is reported today to be at Coloma Dublan where his largest forces are entrenched. Preparations have been made to rusch reinforcements to Namiquipa if the American troops are attacked.

Washington, June 21—The cruisers Vicksburg and Colorado and four destroyers will leave San Diego today for the Mexican west coast, Admiral Winslow wired the navy department today. The tender Dixie will arrive at Vera Cruz on Sunday. The transport Hancock sailed today from New Orleans with about 900 marines for the Mexican port.

Whatever help they give the land forces no capital ships will be sent, the United Press learned today. Dreadnaughts, battle ships and heavy cruisers would not be needed for any Mex service, it was stated. "Nor would be wise at this time to break up the Atlantic fleet." Should a blockade be determined upon the work will be done by light cruisers, transports and gun boats. Should need arise the navy could easily augment its small war ship quota by seizing the four Mexican gun boats lying in port without fuel or ammunition.

President Wilson has decided the full first year program recommended by the general board of the navy should be adopted by congress. This program includes construction during the first year of three battle cruisers, four dreadnaughts and four scout cruisers.

Between 300 and 400 American refugees have left Sonora in the past three days according to state department advices today. A special train presumably taking 200 or 300 more out of the capital was due to leave today.

New York, June 21.—The Carranza government has withdrawn practically all the $4,000,000 which it has had on deposit here for financing its ordinary business, it became known today.

Harrisburg, June 21.—Orders were issued today to all N.G. P. commanders to recruit compies to full war strength.

The time of issuance of his order was still in doubt. Officials said they would wait until sufficient mobilization has been accomplished before taking the step. Secretary Baker said messages received within the last 24 hours did not change the matter any.

Mexico City, June 21.—The special train ordered by special agent Rodgers to take Americans out of Mexico City will not leave for Vera Cruz today as was expected. Rodgers was notified at an early hour by government officials that preparations for the train's departure had not been completed. Another demonstration of working men took place last night. Carranza addressed this assemblage repeating his previous statement that Mexico was not seeking war with the United States.

Chicago, June 21.—(By United Press)—Thousands of horses originally intended for sale to European armies were brought out for inspection for United States army officers at local markets today. The first Illinois cavalry took options on nearly 1,000 of them. Horse dealers here determined today to "give the United States first chance" for horses regardless of European contracts.

London, June 21.—Six German divisions—12,000 men—have been hurried east to check the Russian offensive bearing down upon Lemberg, Geneva dispatches reported today.

6000 Horses to be Bought

Six thousand horses and mules are to be purchased at once by the war department for Mexican service through competitive bids. The horses required total 40,000 and the mules 20,000. They expected no difficulty in getting the first allotment of horses. The middle west will furnish a large part of them.

Only 53 machine guns are in the hands of military organizations in the country. Every military regiment will have to have a machine gun company, an army officer stated. These will be organized if the regiments go to the border. Machine guns will be furnished by the government.

Mr and Mrs J. F. Woods and son, Charles, of Reed street, left on the morning train for Akron, O., where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. Geo. Wind. They expect to visit Cleveland before their return home.

FARM AGENT WILL START WORK HERE MIDDLE OF JULY

Office of County Farm Bureau Will Be Located In The Keystone Building

Big Meeting of Bureau Will be Held July 13 in the Court House—Bureau of Great Benefit to Farmers.

The Clearfield County Farm bureau starts officially July first, simultaneously with all other new farm bureaus in Pennsylvania, when the recently appointed extension representatives report for duty at State College.

After a few days preliminary work at the college, the men will report for duty in their respective counties.

A. T. Kearney, extension representative for Clearfield county will arrive in Clearfield on July 13th, accompanied by F. P. Weaver of the school of agriculture of State college. Mr. Weaver is well known here, having made a number of splendid addresses on farm bureau work.

A meeting of the officers, board of managers and those connected with the organization of the bureau will be held in Clearfield on July 13th at two o'clock, P. M., in the Court House. Almost from that hour the Clearfield County Farm bureau will be an actual working organization for the improvement and upbuilding of the agricultural interests of the county. A close study of our agricultural problems will be made and when preliminary details are completed every earnest farmer who wants the assistance of the bureau will receive it. It is a county institution and the service will be free. The most practical scientific methods will be employed.

The office of the bureau will be in the Keystone building on Second street, occupying a part of the suite of offices leased by the county commissioners for the superintendent of schools, C. A. Weisgerber. This is an excellent arrangement because boy's corn clubs will be organized throughout the county in connection with the schools, affording the very best opportunity for cooperation between these schools and the branch of agricultural development.

The officers and board of managers who will meet in Clearfield on Thursday, July 13th to inaugurate the work of the Farm bureau are:

Peter Gearhart, president. Chas. Goodlander, H D. Watts, and F. B. Lee, vice- presidents; L. E. Weber, treasurer, H. E. Bodine, secretary, C. A. Weisgerber, superintendent of the schools.

Board of managers, M. J McCreight, H.E. Owens, C. W. Langsford, George W Wachob, Ed. Billotte, T. L. Way and Peter Gearhart.

Mr. Kearney will be warmly welcomed by the farmers and business men of this section. He comes highly recommended and is well qualified to render the county valuable service.

ENGINE SMASHES INTO FREIGHT IN N. Y. C. YARDS

Ditches Four Cars and Engine—No One Was Injured

Last night about twelve o'clock a N. Y. C. engine smashed into a long freight train at the lower end of the yards in East End piling up four or five cars and the engine. The wreck occurred where the tracks cross. The engine was driven by Earnest Orr who evidently was coming into the yards at high speed and did not notice the other train until too late to stop. No one was hurt although there were several narrow escapes. The wreck was cleaned up last night in a few hours.

CLEARFIELD BOYS DEFEAT CRACK CURWENSVILLE TEAM

12 to 6 Victory Yesterday at Curwensville Makes Local Youngsters Happy

Clearfield youngsters administered a decided defeat to the juvenile team of Curwensville, when they registered a 12 to 6 victory on the Curwensville home grounds. Tom McGoey, who pitched for the Clearfields, featured the game with fine pitching and heavy hitting.

When one considers the very general and unmistakable interest that is being shown in the Progress automobile contest they may wonder—but only for an instant, for when the unusually generous offer of this paper with its unprecedented $1,000 prize list is considered, there is good and sufficient reason for the wide spread interest and animation produced by this interesting event. After all it is little wonder that this high class offer made a decided hit from the very first announcement and promptly received the hearty endorsement and generous support of an intelligent and discriminating public.

Seldom, if ever, during the ordinary life-time has one the chance of becoming the owner of a brand new five passenger Overland automobile and nearly a half score of other valuable and useful articles, without the investment of a single cent. Never before in local history have the people of Clearfield county been the recipients of a prize offer of such magnitude and importance, which is fair and equitable conditions, and only on extraordinary occasions, do the popular people of a community receive the distinguished honors that are in store for the winners of these handsome awards.

There is nothing cheap about the great Progress campaign and it is not of the "fake" variety. The awards have already been purchased and may be seen and inspected by the public at the business houses of these reliable local concerns. The Overland touring car that it to be awarded as the grand prize has just been received by the Lee garage and will have its first drive under the guiding hand of its winner. The car is of the latest design, and is one of the most perfect products of the Willys Overland Co. This touring car is elegantly finished, and fully equipped with all the accessories of the higher priced cars. It will go to the candidate securing the highest vote in the contest, and is sure to prove of much pleasure and pride to its owner. The Baumgartner piano, three victrolas, and the [illegible] the watches that will be awarded to the candidates in the order of their vote standing, while of less value than the first grand prize, are of equally high character, and any of these articles will certainly well repay, and surely please, the ladies or gentlemen who win them.

Aside from all matters of pride and popularity that are connected with the competition in this popular event, it offers a real business proposition of unusual magnitude to those who are willing to devote a few weeks of pleasant effort to the subscription getting that will determine the winners. Germany is Growing Indifferent To American Opinion, Is Report

Teutons Will Renew Submarine Activities to Bring Conflict to Early Close.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, June 21 - Germany is growing suddenly indifferent to American opinion and may begin anew the submarine warfare against allied shipping. Advocates of a more effective use of the new undersea boats have reopened their campaign and today were pointing out unfriendly representations by President Wilson's talk before the league to enforce peace and figures showing 60 per cent of it is beaten then Germany should Americans against Germany in an effort to bring about renewal of the policy. Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg seems to have the upper hand.

Germany is convinced that the war will not end this summer but believes the allies are defeated. Leading news-papers pointed out the Skagerac navy battle, the Russian drive and the successful counter drives of Teutons and successes of the Austrian offensive against Italy to show the growing weakness of the allies.

disregard public sentiment in America and use the submarines with renewed vigor to bring the conflict to an end according to the German view.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 21, 1916.

The farmers will no doubt welcome today's shower. Yesterday's sunshine must have been too much for the growing crops.

It is beginning to look as if the local young men who have howled loudest for an opportunity to bleed for their country, are going to have a chance to spill a drop or two down in Mexico.

We started out to "catch" Villa with a thousand men. A hundred and fifty thousand militia were added. Now five-hundred thousand volunteers are talked of. That ought to be enought to get him.

MUDDLING INTO MEXICO.

It was not difficult to point out months ago that the Washington Administration was muddling into Mexico, without the remotest conception of how to muddle out, or perhaps even to muddle through. That absurd collection of contradictory clap-trap, the Democratic platform, states at least one truth in saying that, in effect, the present action "is revolting to the American people." It is, for it involves not merely vigorous intervention but indefinite occupation.

There is no use in crying over spilt milk, but it is at least possible to see in November that the custody of our milk shall be left to those who can handle milk without spilling it. Mr. Hughes, in his message of acceptance, put his finger upon Mexico, the weakest spot in the incomprehensible foreign policy of Mr. Wilson's administration. That policy has exhibited one object lesson after another of "how not to do it."

It is useless to go back and point out that the Administration's offensive holier-than-thou policy in dealing with Huerta served to establish bringandage as the national occupation of Mexico, and defeated the efforts of what was at least a de facto government to suppress it. We had no concern with the Mexican method of choosing presidents. Porfirio Diaz gave the Mexicans the government they needed. He chose himself and re-elected himself, as did Huerta. Our Administration twaddled as if an election in Mexico—and it is needless to say that there has never been one there in our sense of the word—could be handled on the lines of a New England town meeting.

Then followed the grievous folly of the occupation of Vera Cruz and the shameful abandonment of our citizens at Tampico. By that time Mr. Wilson's "watchful waiting" had removed every restraint upon anarchy. Carranza, the merest figurehead, was bolstered up by the bloodthirsty bandit Villa. There was no question of nationalism or patriotism among these cutthroats. They had lost the discipline Diaz taught them and were out simply and solely for loot. What difference did the border make, especially with the contempt which Washington had impressed upon the Mexican mind?

With the calling out of the state militia, at [illegible] an unconstitutional act, the trouble has barely begun. We shall be lucky if it is not necessary to send three times the number of men now provided. We shall find that to train them requires not the twelve hours "between sunset and sunrise" dear to the Democratic heart, but at least twelve months, and more than that for the officers. What a legacy for the incoming Republican Administration!—Wall Street Journal.

UNCLE SAM'S ADVICE TO MUDDY ABOUT COMPLEXION

Washington, June 21.—(By United Press)—Do you know asks the Public Health service in a bulletin today, that:

Is worry, not work, that shortens life?

A cold bath every morning is the best complexion remedy?

Poor health is expensive?

The U. S. Public Health Service has reduced malaria 60 per cent in some localities by methods your town can pursue?

The death rate from typhoid fever in the United States has been cut in half since 1900?

Pneumonia kills more than 120,000 Americans each year?

A flyless town has few funerals?

The well that drains the cesspool is the cup of death?

SEEKS NEW WEIGHT LIFTING RECORD.

Boston, June 21.—John Y. Smith, the strong man who once ranked with the strongest in the world, will attempt a new world's record in weight lifting at the Boston Y. M. C. A. gymnasium tomorrow. He intends trying to lift a 200-pound dumb bell from the floor to his shoulder with two hands and then push it up slowly with his right arm alone to a full arm's length over his head.

Smith, who is over fifty years of age, broke all amateur records more than fifteen years ago and also smashed Eugene Sandow's records at weight lifting.

John Mitchell, of Philadelphia, was called here to attend the funeral of his uncle, Mr. Oscar Mitchell.

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

The Khanikan region, where the Russians are reported to have been checked in their advance upon Bagdad, is the subject of the following war geography bulletin issued by the National Gographic society from its headquarters in Washington:

"It is a thirty-two hours journey, along a much traveled caravan route, from Khanikin to Bagdad. The latter city lies eighty-five miles southwest of the Turkish border town which is situated on both sides of the Hulvar river, a tributary of the Diala, whose waters empty into the Tigris.

"Nestling near the foothills of the Zagros mountains, with the fertile but uncultivated Mesopotamian plain stretching to the South, Khanikin is a commercial gateway between Persia and Asiatic Turkey. Through it pass the caravans which bear to Bagdad the produce destined for transhipment to the port of Basra on the Persian Gulf. To the East lies Kermanshah, famous for its carpets and its horses, and situated almost equi-distant from Tabriz, Teheran, Isfahan and Bagdad.

"Not only does the traveler journeying from Bagdad to Khanikin meet trade caravans but frequently he encounters curious funeral processions of Shiite pilgrims making their solemn way from various points in Kurdistan to Kerbela, below Bagdad. The faithful believe that there is special virtue in being buried near the shrine of Husein, who fell at Kerbela in 680 A. D., while battling with the enemies of his father, Ali, son-in-law of the prophet and fourth caliph.

"Khanikin is charmingly situated in the midst of gardens whose fruits and palms are famous. Six hours journey from here, on the road to Kermanshalt, is Kasr-Shirin, once the headquarters of a notorious robber chief and interesting on account of its connection with the romantic legends concerning Ferhad and Shirin. Here are to be found the remains of a rock-hewn aqueduct which in ancient days conveyed water for a distance of fifteen miles in order that the gardens of Shirin might be made worthy of the beauty of their far-famed mistress. The story of Ferhad and Shirin is one of the favorite romances of the East. Ferhad was the greatest sculptor of his day, and a great architect. While making bas-reliefs of his sovereign, Chosroes II, and of the latter's bride, the Shirin, (also called Sira) the sculptor fell madly in love with his beautiful model. Chosroes, so goes the legend, promised to bestow Shirin upon his gifted subject provided the latter would cut through the rock of Behistun and divert a stream to the Kermanshah plain. Ferhad undertook the task but when the work was almost completed an emissary came from the false king bearing a tragic story of Shirin's death. The sculptor in despair leaped from the rocks and was dashed to death upon the site of his engineering triumph.

"In this neighborhood is Sar-i-Puli-zohab, where the Ali Ilahis believe David lived and where a rock-hewn tomb is a place of pilgrimage. This sect, supposed to believe in the successive reincarnation of the God-head through 1,001 existences, had a remarkable beginning, for it is recorded that Ali, who is held to be their god, repudiated the worship of his would-be followers and when Abdulla ibn Saba, an Arab, proclaimed him to be God the disciple and those who joined in protestations of reverence were ordered cast into a pit where fire was thrown upon them. While the burning Brands descended upon the zealots they cried out in their agony, 'Now is the certainty of all certainty that thou are god, for the prophet has said "None by God shall punish with fire".'

"Within another month the soldiers of the Czar will cease to be afflicted with one of the greatest insect pests of this region—the fleas which breed by the millions in the dust and said of the Kurdish plains. They disappear in July and do not return to harry their human victims until spring."

If the International league teams don't stop Providence pretty soon the Grays will have the pennant nailed by July 4.

After they had walloped the Indians at Cleveland, the Senators were backed up into a corner and given an awful beating by the Tigers and White Sox.

It is said the Red Sox plan to shift Pitcher Ruth to the outfield. The Sox don't miss Speaker. They only miss his fielding and his hitting.

[illegible] of the Giants is not hitting strong enough to get his name among the leading batsmen; but once on the paths he doesn't care how many bases he steals.

By giving to the Reds the finest kind of base ball, Hal Chase has crossed the critics who predicted he would not fit with the Herzog regime.

American leage batting averages would make it appear that Collins and Collins, the well known Chicago firm of hitsmiths, has retired from business.

Milwaukee, usually a strong contender for the American Association pennant, has had troubles a-plenty this season trying to get within hailing distance of the leaders.

Hitters of the .300 variety are as scarce in Boston as prohibition voters in a brewery. Neither the Braves nor the Red Sox own a pastimer who has been able to keep company with the heavy stickers.

During the fifteen years Eddie Plank has been flinging big league ball he has pitched for world's champions, just plain champions and near champions. But all this happened in Philadelphia, before Eddie landed in St. Louis.

Messrs. Cubb and Speaker will have to keep tabs on Gen. Joseph Jackson. The White Sox gardener has started straightening out the benders as furnished by our very best heavers.

In stating that this team is as good as it was last year Manager Pat Moran of the Phillies has anything on Connie Mack. The Athletics also are as good as they were last year.

The Pirates have Honus Wagner, the king of pastimers; Max Carey, the king of base stealers, and Al Mamaux, crown prince among the pitchers. But it's a tough year on royalty.

Delegate John McGraw of New York has nominated the Giants to head the National league ticket and the Braves for second place. Leaving his specs at home perhaps caused John's failure to discern Bobby Robinson's "rotunda" figure across the bridge.

Danny Hoffman, formerly of the St. Louis Browns, has quit the Bridgeport Eastern league team and retired from the game. Playing with the Browns was a happy existence compared to pastiming with a tail-end team in a ten-club circuit, so Dan handed himself his release.

After scouting a year over the National league circuit for his lost batting eye, Chief Meyers finally has found it. Seems that the Indian backstop had mislaid his lamp during a visit to Brooklyn and didn't recover it until he was transferred by the Giants to the Superbas.

Don't Crowd Your Ad.

By BREEN.

Some advertisers make the mistake of trying to crowd a page of type into a few inches.

Display your ad. Make it catchy.

If you buy a few inches in a newspaper don't try to make them carry a couple of hundred words. Newspaper readers will not wear strong glasses to read small type.

When you decide to advertise a certain article pick out its best points. Then briefly tell what they are. Emphasize in big type.

Then you'll get results.

You've hit the right tobacco

when you fire-up some Prince Albert in your old jimmy pipe or in a makin's cigarette. And you know it! Can't get in wrong with P. A. for it is made right; made to spread-smoke-sunshine among men who have suffered with scorched tongues and parched throats! The patented process fixes that—and cuts out bite and parch. All day long you'll sing how glad you are you're pals with

the national joy smoke

You take this testimony straight from the shoulder, men. You can smoke a barrel of P. A. without a kick! It hands out all the tobacco happiness any man ever dreamed about, it's so smooth and friendly. It's a mighty cheerful thing to be on talking-terms with your pipe and your tongue at the same time—but that's what's coming to you sure as you pin your faith to Prince Albert!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Everywhere tobacco is sold you'll find Prince Albert smoking your cheerful self. Buy it in 5c tags; red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound humidors—and—in that classy pound crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco moist!

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphura compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease

MEXICO'S DAY TO CELEBRATE.

City of Mexico, June 21.—The customary holiday was observed today in honor of the forty-ninth anniversary of the taking of the City of Mexico by the forces of Gen. Porfirio Diaz, June 21, 1867. The city had been held by Count von Khevenhuller, in command of Hungarian veterans. Gen. Diaz had maintained a seige for about two months. The fall of the City of Mexico to the Liberal troops marked the last blow to the Imperialists and practically ended the long war of the Napoleonic invasion. Today the anniversary of the event was marked by the firing of salutes at the artillery barracks and the display of the national flag over all the public buildings.

Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, a splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside-bathing before breakfast

MIDDLEBURY RECALLS ITS POET.

Middlebury, Vt., June 21.—Several attractive features added to the regular program of exercises served to make today's commencement at Middlebury College one of the most notable occasions of its kind in the history of the institution. One of the features was the formal opening of two new buildings, Hepburn dormitory and Commons, and Mead Memorial Chapel. Tonight the program concludes with the commencement dinner and special exercises in celebration of the centennial of the birth of John Godfrey Saxe, the noted humorous poet, who graduated from Middlebury in 1839. WOODLAND

On Saturday evening Dr. J. S. Fulton, conference superintendent opened the Homecoming Day exercises at the old Bradford U. B. church in a very fitting manner, after which Rev. W. S. Wilson, of Wilkinsburg, Pa., gave an address which was very timely and much appreciated by the large congregation.

On Sunday morning, Rev. A. Davidson, of Bethel, Pa., preached the word to a full house. It was a delight to listen to this man of God. The noon hour was spent in renewing acquaintances and visiting the graves of the departed. By this time the congregation had grown altogether out of proportion in keeping with the church accommodation. In the afternoon, Rev. B. J. Hummel, of Clearfield conducted a platform service. The speakers were Rev. J. S. Fulton, E. B. Learish and M. M. Houser. In the evening Dr. J. S. Fulton delivered a masterly discourse to a crowded house in the Woodland U. B. church. Revs Wilson, Houser and Learish were born and raised in the Bradford community and from here have gone out into the active work of the ministry.

The Woodland U. B. Sunday school will hold their Children's Day service Sunday evening, June 25th, at 7:30. Let this intimation be your invitation. An excellent program is being arranged.

John Adam Thompson, of near the Dale M. E. church died June 17th, 1916. He was 51 years and 26 days old. The funeral was held at his late home Monday at 2 p. m. and was largely attended. Rev. I. W. Groh, of Woodland officiated.

COMMENCEMENT AT YALE.

New Haven, June 21.—Distinguished visitors from many lands participated today in the annual commencement exercises at Yale University. The exercises were held in Woolsey Hall and were preceded by the customary procession of officers, graduates, candidates for degrees and invited guests. Following the presentation of diplomas the assembly of alumni was held in the Hewitt Quadrangle. In the late afternoon the proceedings were brought to a close with the president's reception in Memorial Hall.

AMERICA'S EXPERT BAGGAGE SMASHERS CONVENE TODAY

Boston, Mass., June 21.—(By United Press)—America's expert baggage smashers convened here today to talk about your trunk.

First glance at the gathering proved that the baggage smasher at home is not the baggage smasher on holiday.

The baggage smasher at home is very tough.

In his native environment, trundling a hand trunk through canyons of brass bound luggage, he affects a uniform cap over one ear and a pencil over the other.

He carries one shoulder high and talks in a rough voice out of one corner of his mouth.

At home, in short, the baggage smasher is a man all twisted up; but here, today, he is slick and spick; and just looking at him you wouldn't suspect that he would smash the dickens out of anything from a handsatchel to an armored battleship, if it came in as luggage.

No smasher could be found who would explain how it is that baggagemen can find an individual trunk so quickly in the stack and stacks of them that daily roll in and out of the great railroad stations of the country.

But they do it; and they must have credit for that.

Progress Contestants Secure Many Votes Spite of Bad Weather

taking with such easy and pleasant effort could one hope to make his or her time productive of such substantial returns.

Still Time for the Energetic

"Is it too late for me to enter the Progress contest?' Such was the question made to the contest manager by an ambitious candidate who called at the Progress office yesterday.

No indeed, it is not too late to enter the contest, and it is not yet too late for any ambitious and business-like individuals to secure a sufficient number of votes to win that glittering, new touring car or any of the other prizes listed. In fact it will not be "late" until after the present week has passed, for many of the best candidates are now just getting their campaigns nicely organized, and their subscription selling efforts well under way. It is to be expected that several ambitious candidates will make their "debut" during the present week, and some of these will be very must heard from during the remainder of the contest There still remain three more weeks of the first voting period of the contest and all candidates will do well to keep their eyes on July 8th, the time at which the first period of the contest closes and the secondary or lesser, voting period goes into effect Much can be accomplished by all candidates between this and the above date, and those who aspire for the big prizes will, during this time, let their efforts measure up to the character of the prize they aspire to win. Will you be a winner?

ADAM AND EVE.

What's a woman? Ask a man,
What d'you fancy he will say?
"Airs and graces, frills and laces,
Never knows what she want each day!"
Why, then, gossip, tell me true,
Why you woo her—as you do

Ask a woman "What's a man?'
What d'you fancy she will say?
'Swagg'ring, swearing, overbearing,
Always wanting to have his way'"
Say, then, gossip, if you can,
Why you wed him'—horrid man!

Gentle sir and sweetest madam,
Would you know the reason true
Why today you scorn each other
And tomorrow bill and coo?
Ask your parents, Eve and Adam,
They can tell—and so can you!

—Exchange.
